Status at Last Annual Meeting

The revised `http://www.euron.org` was active and working well.

Our goals were to:

- continue to add information as it came in
- make the site editable by other approved people
- upgrade the site by adding pictures to pages and generally making the information more attractive

EURON Year 1 Review

The reviewers made several comments about the website:

The reviewers made several comments about the website:

- they did not like the look-and-feel, and wanted the site to be professionally designed.

EURON Year 1 Review

The reviewers made several comments about the website:

- they did not like the look-and-feel, and wanted the site to be professionally designed.
- they felt that the site was difficult to navigate, and did not have sufficient emphasis on what EURON actually does.

EURON Year 1 Review

The reviewers made several comments about the website:

- they did not like the look-and-feel, and wanted the site to be professionally designed.
- they felt that the site was difficult to navigate, and did not have sufficient emphasis on what EURON actually does.
- they felt that EURON lacked a "brand", that the site was too fragmented with different styles for each separate sub-site.

- Integrating most sub-sites requires sub-editing facilities, so has to come later.

Response Status

Response Status

- Some sub-sites have already been integrated into the main site: summer schools, theseuron, conference calendar.

Response Status

- Some sub-sites have already been integrated into the main site: summer schools, theseuron, conference calendar.
- The graphic and navigational redesign is completed but not yet implemented. This implementation should happen before the end of year 2 (May), to deal with reviewers' "look-and-feel" comments and hopefully the navigational problems.
